

▶ UNITE Program Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

Who can use Unite funds?

All active duty, reservists and civilians (APF and NAF) assigned to an Air Force squadron, unit, or staff group are allocated Unite funds. Your base's Community Cohesion Coordinator (C3) can tell you about your available funding. (see ACC C3 directory)

What can we use this funding for?

Unite funding can be used for two things: activities and food. The activities must be cohesive or team building in nature and the food must be in conjunction with the activity. Activity funds may be used for but not limited to: bowling, horseback riding, axe throwing, golf or rental of ODR equipment. Food may be purchased from a grocery store and grilled as a picnic, from a local restaurant, or you may have your event catered.

How can we use Unite funds with current crowd size limitations?

Your local C3 should have a full menu of small group and virtual options! Ask about online scavenger hunts, escape rooms or what allowances are for bowling or golf in your area. The whole squadron does not have to be included in every activity. Funding may be utilized by work center groups or small segments of a squadron.

Can Unite cover food at our meeting or resiliency training?

No. Unite is intended to provide a teambuilding experience and therefore must be based around group recreation. However, if a team building recreational event occurs before or after your meeting or training – the recreational portion of the event may qualify for Unite funds.

How many events can we have?

You can have as many events as your budget allows.

What is the deadline for spending?

Unite funds run on a calendar year. Your C3 will notify your base about the exact December date deadline. New funding will come again to bases in January.
